Students can search through the handbook for individual units. This is where they would find individual units that they would be able to select. Alternatively they can search the handbook for courses, when they click through into a course this would show they which units would be part of which courses.

A few things to note:

Please be mindful that they will need to meet the pre requisites if there are any stated Double check that the unit is taught in the semester they are planning on coming Unit numbers that start with 1-3 are undergraduate, while units 4-6 are postgraduate for example EXMP2002 would be undergraduate while EXMP4002 would be postgraduate

Most units are valued at 25 credits, however there are some 12.5 credit and 50 credit units. A fulltime load at Curtin University is 75 credits (usually three units) or 100 credits (usually four units) per semester.

I hope this helps.

Kind regards, Karen
